

■ THEY ARE SO NOT HAVING THE BEST WEEK EVER

Maybe it's the heat. Several celebrities weren't on their best behavior this week, according to police. Here's a look at some other stars with mug shots:

- Steven Page, lead singer and guitarist for the Barenaked Ladies, could face up to 15 years in prison after he was arrested in connection with cocaine possession Friday near Syracuse, N.Y. Police said they found Page, 38, and Stephanie Ford, 25, at the kitchen table of a home in Fayetteville, N.Y., with a white capsule that tested positive for cocaine. Page was released on $10,000 bail and will appear in court Thursday.
- Actors Josh Brolin and Jeffrey Wright were arrested during a bar brawl early Saturday in Shreveport, La., police said. Brolin, Wright and five crewmembers from the Oliver Stone movie W were arrested at the Stray Cat bar around 2 a.m., Shreveport police Sgt. Willie Lewis said. No word yet on what may have led to the brawl.
